The original projector of this enterprise, Mr. R. H. Thomas, perfected the plan of what is called "The Patrons' Centennial Encampment," in-tended to afford cheap board to all. Officers of an association were elected, who have got the lease of a large mansion house and forty acres of land near Elm station, on the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad, six miles from the business part of Philadelphia, and three miles from the Centennial grounds. The association is a joint stock one, whose apital of $150,000 is solicited from sub scribers at $50 a share. According to the last announcements of the association the Board of Managers have made contracts for the erection of buildings on their grounds (principally one-story), in which they propose to rent well, but not expensively furnished rooms, for $1 a day each to one or two persons. Meals will be provided at fifty cents each, but parties may bring their own provisions and still occupy rooms. Pure water, thorough police surveillance, plenty of light on the grounds, corridors, dining-rooms and offices at night, a large hall have washed cotton clothes; it makes for lectures and religious services, a laundry, barber-shops, cigar stands, ice cream saloons and other stores and shops (excepting bar-rooms for the sale of li-quors)—these conveniences are promised

THE Detroit Tribune has been examining into the charge that Senator Thurman, of Ohio, "had received a $50,000 fee for influencing legislation in favor of the Atlantic & Great Western Railway Company, and classing it as "another scandal which seems to have been pretty effectually knocked in the head," adds: "The evidence seems very thoroughly to disprove the charge, and we are glad to note the fact. Senator Thurman belongs too emphatically to the wrong party to ever be elected President, but he is a man of unimpeoched integrity and high ability." The confession or assertion of the last clause is sufficient for the press: the Presidential chances of the Senator are not to be so easily disposed of by a fling at the "wrong party."

Dyer also ler approves. stated that "the testimony taken by the grand jury was given to the defense by a juror named Fox, one of the two who voted against finding an indictment and afterward came here, (to Washington) and gave the testimony away, getting, in some way, his son appointed to some office." Fox gets his reward for violating his oath and "giving away" the secrets of the grand jury. Lee gets an appointment from Secretary Chandler on the recommendation of the President, goes to St. Louis in the interest of Babcock, reports to the President his belief in Babcock's guilt, and is discharged on the President's recommendation. Fox takes an office, Lee loses one. Put that and that together.

HECKENDORN

AND STRENCTHENED

The Cheapest and Most Efficient Plow Now in Use.

The celebrated Heckendorn Plow, which has been awarded premiums at the Michigan State Fairs of 1869, 1870 and 1875, has this season been improved by making the moldboard separate from the standard. This gives the plow more durability and greater strength. It is now the lightest draft plow in use, and we think is unrivalled in the field. Its peculiar self-sharpening point is the simplest and most economical plow known to plow-makers. Its reversible share is a feature of great importance, as it doubles the lasting power of an important part of the plow.

The land-side and mold-board combined cut a rhomboidal or diamond-shaped furrow that requires the least draft to turn and the wear of both is distingtional. the least draft to turn, and the wear of both is diminished. Applications for this plow and for descriptions of it may be made to the

IMPORTANT DECISION.

Age to be a point of the proof means committee the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to designate and fix points at which the collectors and supervisors of revenue shall hold their office... The flouse passed, by a vote of 122 to 100, the bill for the substitution of siver coir for fractional currency.

Saturday, April 1.—Senate.—Not in session.

House.—The proceedings in the House, as usnal on Saturdays, were dull and uninteresting. A large share of the day was devoted to the consideration of the bill for the regulation of steam vessels, and a monotonous discussion about fog-horns, steam cock-valves, lights, larboard and starboard courses, etc. The bill was laid over till Baturday, 8th. Robinson offered a resolution reciting that Horace Boynton, Clerk of the House Committee on Military Affairs, had been guilty of corrupt and base practices while an officer of the Internal Revenue Bureau in Texas, and directing the committee to investigate the facts. Adopted.

MONDAY April 2.—Senate.—Various netices the vertice of the race, color, or previous condition of servitude that Congress can interfere and of the respective for the substitution. To limit this statute in the manner now as-ked for would be to make a new law—not to enforce an old one. This is no part of our duty. We must therefore decide that Congress has not as yet provided by appropriate legislation for the public service, whereby William W. Belknap was, as Secretary of War, guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors in office.

To which the President replied, "I have, and do not believe one word of it." The Secretary then said, "If you do believe it I am no longer fit to hold a place in your Cabinet." This was the end of the matter, both with the President and Congress, leaving it a question of versaily between IMPORTANT DECISION.

The Supreme Court Annuls the United States Election Law.

The following is an abstract of the lengthy opinion of the United States Supreme court in the Kentucky election case, recently delivered by Chief-justice Waite:

After statize that the United States absorbed the first and third counts, and expressly waive consideration of all claims not arising out of the enforcement of the fifteenth amendment of the Constitution, the opinion details the provisions of the amendment, and says: The power of Congress to legislate at all upon the subject of voting at State elections rests upon the subject of voting at State elections rests upon the subject of voting at State elections rests upon this amendment. The effect of article 1, sections of a most excellent law passed in 1866 requiring the Commissary department to furnished them by sutlers. This most admirable arrangement is virtually carried out in all other arranges, and would be worth to the commissary department. This department has

This is an extraordinary affair, and the Finance Committee of the Senate, which has it under investigation, ought to insist upon a full and frank explanation. If the table prepared by the Register to accompany the annual report of the Secretary is not a transcript from his books it is a fraud upon the public. If it is a transcript from them, how is the alteration within six years to be accounted for? There ought to be no difficulty in ascertaining upon whose authority the change was made. If Mr. Boutwell is the man, let him be called upon for his reasons.—New York Tribune.
